Highway Death Toll Mounts To Possible Record

252 Already Killed In Traffic; Ohio Leads U. S. In Dead

By The Associated Press
The nation's Christmas holiday accident death toll today passed the 300 mark.

Auto mishaps killed 252 persons since 6 p. m. Wednesday (local time). Twenty-three died in fires. Thirty-one other victims were killed by all other types of accidents.

With more than two and one-half days of the extended 102-hour week Ohio's holiday accident toll was the worst in the 48 states today.

Since 6 p. m. Christmas Eve, 31 persons met their deaths on Ohio highways and at railroad crossings.

Two separate head-on collisions, involving people bound for Christmas visiting, brought death to three persons in each crash. Three accidents involving double fatalities also were recorded.

end still to come, it appeared that the all-time record of 553 traffic deaths for a four-day Christmas holiday in 1936 may be exceeded before midnight Sunday.

Last year's Christmas week-end toll of all accidents was 789 deaths—535 of them in traffic.

Highways in some parts of the Midwest and Northeast were icy, but clear, dry weather was reported over most of the country yesterday.

Some cities reported a record number of accidents. In Chicago,

Holiday Traffic Leaves Three Hurt In City

Three persons were injured in two of the six city traffic accidents investigated by police over the holiday.

A car driven by Edward Toet, 18, of RD 5, Salem and a panel truck operated by Roy Roller of 432 S. Madison St. collided at 8:05 a. m. today on E. State St.

Following the mishap, Toet's auto crashed into a tree at 1221 E. State St.

Toet sustained minor lacerations of the hands and face and was treated at the Central Clinic. His 14-year-old brother, Richard, a passenger in the car, was treated for contusions and lacerations of the face.

Walter Evans of 388 E. Second St. was slightly injured at 5 p. m. Thursday when he was struck by a car driven by John Costa of RD 2, Salem as he was crossing N. Ellsworth Ave. at its intersection with State St.

He was treated at the Central Clinic for abrasions of the left arm and right leg and possible fractured ribs.

A truck-trailer driven by Richard J. Carnes of RD 3, Aliquippa, Pa. and a car operated by Vernon Ashtovich of RD 2, Poland collided at 12:01 a. m. Thursday at the intersection of W. State St. and Howard Ave.

C. David Huser of Salt Lake City, Utah told police his car was struck and damaged by an unidentified vehicle sometime Wednesday night while it was parked in the old city hall lot on E. State St.

Cars driven by Helen C. Coruthers of Sebring and Howard Herold of 441 Aetna St. collided at 4:40 p. m. Wednesday at the intersection of Bank St. and S. Lundy Ave.

In a similar mishap cars operated by Sally Quinn of RD 4, Salem and a pickup truck driven by John C. Filler of 1712 N. Ellsworth Ave. collided at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday at the intersection of N. Broadway and Third St.

Adenauer Seeks "Strong Man" As Commissioner

Appeal To Ike Seen As Distress Signal By West German Head

BON, Germany (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has urgently appealed to President-elect Eisenhower to appoint a "strong man" as new U. S. high commissioner to Germany as soon as possible, Allied sources reported today.

They said he asked that the job be given to a forceful figure who could give a much-needed boost to lagging plans for German rearmament and West European unification.

Adenauer's request is regarded as actually a distress signal. He needs to get ratification of West Germany's treaties of alliance with the West. And he thinks France and other partners of the six-nation European army project need jogging from the United States to get on with the job.

The Chancellor is reported to have sent a direct request to Eisenhower, and an appeal indirectly through two men who have served as U. S. high commissioners—John J. McCloy and Walter L. Donnelly. Donnelly retired as high commissioner Dec. 31.

There is wide speculation here as to who might get the tough post.

Among those mentioned in diplomatic circles and in the German press are William H. Draper Jr., President Truman's special ambassador to Europe and chief of the Mutual Security Agency for the continent; Robert D. Murphy, present U. S. ambassador to Japan and a career diplomat; and George F. Kennan, former U. S. ambassador to Russia.

Both Draper and Murphy served on the staff of Gen. Lucius D. Clay when Clay was U. S. military governor of Germany. Draper was Clay's chief economic adviser and helped put the country back on its feet. Murphy was the general's political adviser. Kennan worked in Germany before the war and is an expert on East-West problems that form a big part of the job here.

As Adenauer and other German and American officials here see it, Eisenhower holds the key to the solution of the European army and alliance treaty problems—slowed down by parliamentary delays and intra-European bickering.

Time is critical for Adenauer. This protagonist of West German rearmament and integration with the West will be 77 Jan. 5. He will be embarking on a critical year of his political life when his whole program may succeed or fail. Though hale, hearty and alert, he faces major political battles, including a national election campaign.

Sabres Brush With Communist Jets

SEOUL (AP)—Screaming U. S. Sabre jets brushed with Communist jet fighters in clear, cold skies over North Korea today while ground action continued light.

The Fifth Air Force said 12 Sabres skirmished with 14 Russian-built MIG jets, but made no damage claims.

Christmas Day, a large MIG formation turned back to its Manchurian sanctuary without firing a shot in the deepest Communist jet penetration of the war.

The Air Force didn't say how close, the Red planes got to the battline. The MIGs sped northward to safety as soon as the Sabres were airborne.

A Sabre jet was credited with destruction of a MIG high over North Korea yesterday without firing a shot. The MIG went into a spin and crashed while attempting an evasive maneuver.

Brink's Money Reported Banked

Lawyer May Have Put It Throughout U. S.

BOSTON (AP) — Unconfirmed reports said today the $1,219,000 loot from the Brink's robbery of Jan. 17, 1950, may have been placed in safe deposit boxes in various banks by a respectable Boston man acting as a "front" for the robbers.

The FBI refuses to comment on the report of how the loot was hidden after the daring evening robbery but three Boston papers report today a lawyer was chosen by the gang to secret the cash.

The reports said the gang's plan called for the lawyer to hire some 40 safe deposit boxes in banks throughout the country where the money could be placed by him without suspicion.

The newspapers added that the lawyer's identity has been known to investigators for some time and said that he has been under surveillance for many months and is expected to be brought in for questioning in a few days.

A grand jury investigating the Brink's robbery recessed last Monday and is scheduled to resume next Monday.

The reports continued that the FBI has traced $236,500 of the Brink's cash to some of the vaults and that about $30,000 of the loot was used to buy government bonds.

Another unconfirmed report said three men died before they could be questioned by the FBI in connection with the Brink's case. Two of the men were slain and the third died of a heart attack while in hiding.

The report said the men who were to have been questioned were:

Carleton M. O'Brien, Rhode Island diner owner who was slain May 17; George R. Killen, South Boston gangster, shot to death outside an all-night restaurant a half mile from Brink's headquarters; and Louis (The Pig) Uva, Boston bookie who died while hiding out at the home of relatives to avoid questioning in Killen's death.

The FBI shrugs off questions relating to the Brink's robbery investigation with a curt "no comment."

Meanwhile, Police Chief Dean Meredith of Towanda, Pa., said early today that a suspect in the Brink's robbery offered him a bribe for his release from a gun-carrying charge six months after the fabulous Boston robbery.

The police chief named Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, 44-year-old Boston gunman, listed in FBI affidavits as a possible participant in the stickup.

O'Keefe is serving time on the gun-carrying charge in Towanda but currently is in a Boston jail while a grand jury is hearing evidence in the Brink's robbery.

He appeared before the grand jury for about three minutes before he was charged with contempt of court for refusing to tell the jurors any more than his name and address.

Meredith arrested O'Keefe and Stanley Gusciora of Stoughton, Mass., on June 11, 1950, for having five pistols and 150 rounds of ammunition in their car while driving through Towanda.

In a statement from Towanda, in answer to a reporter's query, Meredith said:

"I and three state policemen, Donald Burke, John Mancauso and Lynn Bohr, arrested O'Keefe and Stanley Gusciora near Towanda on June 11, 1950, on a charge of violating the Uniform Firearms Act. 'At the time we booked them and were putting them in county jail O'Keefe asked me if there wasn't some way we could patch this up.'

"I said, 'What kind of patching material do you have?' I wanted to see how much money he had or where he could get it. O'Keefe told me, 'name it and it will be cash on the barrel head.'

"I told Mancauso what O'Keefe said and I knew Bohr knew I had been offered a bribe."

Man, 642 Pounds, Diets To 369 To Get On Airline

FT. WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The way Guy (Texas Tiny) Cherry is eating you'd think he never cared whether he got back to California.

Cherry yesterday jilted the diet that slumped him down from 642 pounds to a mere 369 in favor of a Christmas dinner with turkey and trimmings.

He went on the diet so the airlines would let him fly here to see a cousin for the holidays. Cherry is a Long Beach, Calif., disc jockey.

His big problem—a dozen or so meals from now—will be whether he'll be able to return to the West Coast by plane. But he didn't seem to care yesterday. He just ate and ate.

AUTO KILLS OHIOAN

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Richard L. Stump, 23, of 612½ S. Main St., Lima, O., was killed Wednesday when he was struck by a car while crossing U. S. 31 at the edge of South Bend.

IKE'S CHOW COMPANION KILLED IN ACTION — Cpl. James Murray, right, of Muskogee, Okla., who ate pork chops with President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, left, and Sgt. Jack Hutcherson, center, on a cold Korean hillside three weeks ago, has been killed in action. The corporal went on a patrol into Red lines and was killed a few days before Eisenhower returned to the U. S.

Requirements Cut For Doctors For Services

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today announced a lowering of physical requirements which will allow another check of 4,000 doctors, dentists and veterinarians previously rejected for military service.

The department said its lowered standards would permit fuller use of doctors who are under Selective Service or in the officers reserve, without hurting the quality of medical care in the armed services.

The announcement also said a saving equal to the services of 4,000 physicians has resulted from relieving military doctors from non-medical duties. Deaths among wounded getting medical treatment since the Korean War, it added, are running at only half the World War II rate.

Flagpole Sitting Record May Be Challenged

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—William L. (Happy) Howard's flagpole sitting record of 196 days may be challenged in some quarters.

That is because he did the sitting in two states. He set out to break the record June 1 across the Columbia River in Washougal, Wash. But after several months interest in the project lagged there and Howard, atop a section of the pole, was moved by truck to a Portland amusement park.

He climbed down on Christmas Day announcing that he had set a record. The previous record, he said, was held by Emma Leach of Eugene, Ore., who stayed on top a pole above a San Francisco used car lot for 152 days.

Stalin's Statements Monopolize Red Radio

LONDON (AP)—Stalin's statements on world tensions monopolized all Moscow radio broadcasts monitored here yesterday.

Moscow's English-language transmissions beamed to the United States repeated Stalin's replies to newspaper questions 48 times in the early morning alone. It also was the leading item on all the radio's home news bulletins.

The Red Chinese, too, got a full account. The statement was broadcast on the home news bulletins of Peiping radio.

Operation Saves Doomed Youth, 20

SEATTLE (AP)—A 20-year-old man who had been doomed to die within five years because of a malformed heart cherished today the greatest Christmas gift of all—that of a normal life.

An unnamed Seattle surgeon and the sisters of charity of Providence were the donors.

A brother, a year younger, will undergo the same corrective surgery in the near future, through the generosity of the surgeon and the sisters.

It was just six weeks ago when Frank Gunderson of Thompson Falls, Mont., walked into the surgeon's office. He had been sent by his hometown doctors, who said that without an operation young Gunderson had only four or five more years to live.

In the youth's pocket was his life savings of $140. Gently, the surgeon explained that repairing a heart artery which failed to close normally at birth was costly—far more than $140.

But the surgeon told the Providence sisters of the case, and they agreed to donate the needed care at Providence Hospital here. The surgeon said there would be no charge for the operation.

On Dec. 13, Frank's abnormal artery was cut and the two ends were sewn shut in a delicate piece of surgery. The malformation is known technically as patent ductus arteriosus.

Alfred Gunderson, 19, has the same affliction. Their mother and another brother died of heart conditions. The father is crippled with arthritis.

Frank's amazing recovery, the surgeon said, has meant he can expect to live a normal life, with possibly 40 to 50 years still ahead of him.

Alfred, here with his brother, will take the first step on the same road soon.

Secret Of White House Bath Tub Wins $500

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herman Perlman's secret, which won him a $500 U. S. bond when he disclosed it on a television network, is engraved in the White House—and on a bath tub.

But it may be that even President Truman, whose tub it is, didn't know about it until Perlman told the story last night on the CBS-TV program, "I've got a secret."

Perlman, who owns a local glass carving business, was hired to carve designs on the glass panels of five bath tubs when the White House was renovated.

He worked out appropriate designs: a bald eagle and an olive branch for the President, a striped shield and stars for Mrs. Truman, stars and arrows for the tub Margaret Truman uses.

Then, on the back side of a panel of the President's tub, where it can't be seen because the panel is sealed against a wall, he carved the special message which Perlman says he "just thought up."

"In this tub bathes the man whose heart is always clean and serves his people truthfully."

Steal $1,250 In Gems

Americans Urged Not To Lose Faith In U. N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans should not let allegations that subversives have infiltrated the U. S. staff at the United Nations undermine their faith in the world organization, Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.) said yesterday.

O'Connor is a member of the Senate internal security subcommittee, whose hearings have been a factor in the discharge of 29 U. S. nationals from the U. N. staff. The Americans were fired on the ground that they may be disloyal to the U. S. government.

O'Connor said in a statement: "Even such an unsavory condition as has been disclosed—which can and must be corrected—should not be permitted to tear down or endanger the structure of international co-operation which has been so laboriously erected."

Damascus To Hold Watch Night Service

DAMASCUS — The annual watch night service of the Damascus Quarterly Meeting will be held at Goshen High School Dec. 31 at 9:30 p. m.

A Christmas cantata, "The Story of Christmas," with a choir of 50 voices and a Christmas film "The Sickle of the Cross" will be the main features.

Tri-Eight Club was entertained by Mrs. Burt Hendrick Tuesday evening with Mrs. Orville Reich of Salem a guest. The house was decorated in keeping with the holidays.

Contract bridge honors were awarded Mrs. Walter Loesch, Mrs. Harold Wulf, Mrs. Lee Bennett and Mrs. Robert Ruby. Mrs. Wulf received the traveling prize.

Gifts were exchanged and a lunch was served with appointments in red and white for the Christmas season.

Mrs. Walter Loesch will entertain the group Jan. 20.

Relatives and friends attended the funeral of Charles Morton of Garfield at Burton Tuesday.

The Christmas party and business meeting of Garfield Grange has been postponed until Tuesday evening, Dec. 30.

Mrs. Albert Borton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chepeka called recently on the former's father, B. W. Mather of Alliance, who is ill.

Talbot McPherson of Marion, Ind., spent Christmas with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. R. McPherson.

The ministers of Damascus Quarterly Meeting of Friends with their families held a meeting in the Damascus Friends Church Monday evening.

The program announced by Rev. Odell Powell of Beloit was presented with Mrs. Harold Winn of Salem organist and Rev. Howard Moore of East Goshen song leader.

Devotions were conducted by Dr. Walter R. Williams; two musical monologues, Mrs. Oscar Townsend accompanied by Mrs. Owen Glassburn, men's quartet; Christmas story, Miss Freda Girsberger of Sebring, Christmas picture drawn by Mrs. C. R. McPherson with musical accompaniment, with Rev. Howard Moore soloist and Mrs. Harold Winn, organist; instrumental duet, Mrs. Odell Powell and Mrs. Harold Winn.

Accounts Differ On Shooting Of Steelworker

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police Chief Frank Story faced conflicting accounts today concerning the fatal shooting by a detective of a 38-year-old steelworker.

Delbert Carpenter, who came here two years ago from Charleston, W. Va., died Thursday with slugs from a police gun in his chest, leg and abdomen.

One account of what happened came from Detective Chester Brearey, who fired the shots. The other was given first to a newspaper reporter by Mrs. Joseph Emerick, 35, a neighbor of the victim.

Brearey told his superiors he fired while the steelworker was hitting him with a leather-covered pipe.

He said he and his partner, Elmer Cole, decided to question Carpenter, whom he saw driving along Broadway at a slow speed. There had been burglaries in the neighborhood and they were alerted to watch for suspicious persons.

The detective said Carpenter leaped from his car with the homemade blackjack in his hand, ran up the stairs to his apartment and ignored their calls to halt. He added that he opened fire while Carpenter was striking him at the top of the stairs.

After that report, assistant Police Prosecutor Bernard Conway ruled the shooting was justifiable.

Mrs. Emerick said she saw the incident from a kitchen window where she was doing her Christmas cooking at 4 a. m. Wednesday. She declared there was no physical contact between the two before the shooting started and that Carpenter was almost prone on a step just outside her window when the last two shots hit him.

Parents Absent For Slain Children's Burial

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—Neither parent will be present when the three brutally slain Connett children go to their graves today.

Their father, high school teacher Archie Connett, 31, said by officers to have killed them by swinging them by the heels against walls and furniture, has a self-inflicted slit throat.

His estranged wife, Wynona, 28, suffered so severely from knife wounds and shock that only yesterday was she told her children were dead.

"She took it numbly without evident surprise," said Dr. Milton Chatton, hospital superintendent.

"She seemed to have sensed something had happened."

The sheriff's office said Connett went into a blind rage Tuesday during a pre-Christmas reunion at his wife's home when she suggested he spend the night at his own apartment 30 miles away. Officers said he first stabbed his wife, then killed the children.

Both parents are recovering. Connett from a slashed throat and wrists and the effects of gulping rat poison.

Today's rites for the children—Michael 4, Teresa 2½, and Carl Paul, 4 months—were arranged by their mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gottlieb of Denver.

Station Wagon Wreck Sets Forest On Fire

HANCOCK, Md. (AP)—A station wagon smashed into woods off U. S. 40 on Sideling Hill Mountain Thursday night and set a forest fire. But the driver of the car, Marine Alfonso Herring, of Columbus, O., walked away without serious injury.

Hancock firemen extinguished a blaze and Herring took a bus to his destination in Washington.

Florist Sworn In As Governor Of Maine

AUGUSTA, Me. (AP)—A mild-mannered florist became Maine's 55th governor early today in a candle-lit midnight ceremony beside a gaily-trimmed Christmas tree in his 112-year-old family home.

Burton M. Cross, a Republican, took the oath of office as acting governor from State Supreme Court Justice Robert B. Williamson with 25 relatives and friends looking on.

As state Senate president, Cross, who is also Maine's governor-elect, will complete the term of Gov. Frederick G. Payne (R). Payne resigned at midnight to take his seat as Maine's junior U. S. senator when Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Cross will be inaugurated Jan. 8 for a full two-year terms.

Scheduled Airlines Set Best Safety Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's scheduled airlines apparently compiled their best safety record this year with 0.38 passenger deaths for each 100 million passenger miles, the Civil Aeronautics Board said yesterday.

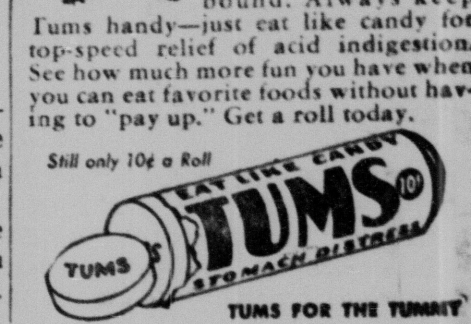

The death rate was an estimate, based on latest available statistics for the year not quite ended. The rate for 1951 was 1.3 deaths for each 100 million passenger miles. The previous low record was 1.1, set in 1950.

Plans To Cut State Auditor's Duties, Patronage Seen Doomed

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—An off-revived proposal to strip the state auditor of many duties and cut his patronage apparently is headed for a legislative waste basket.

The Ohio Program Commission, a state planning body, recently revived the issue. Members voted to urge the new Legislature to relieve the auditor of check writing and bookkeeping work.

That would leave him mainly the duty of post-auditing state accounts after settlement.

The commission proposal would transfer to the state finance director the duty of writing some 3½ million vouchers a year, now turned out by the state auditor. About 65 people do that work.

Republican election victories last November sealed the proposal's fate long before the Legislature convenes next Jan. 5, some members opined.

James A. Rhodes, Republican mayor of Columbus, defeated Democratic Joseph T. Ferguson for the state auditor's job, ending the 16-year reign of "Little Joe" in that Statehouse office. And the Republicans again won control of the General Assembly.

Legislators have aired various demands for curbing Ferguson's authority and for auditing his office without doing much about them. They said the auditor audited everyone, but that no one audited the auditor.

The outcries became louder after Ferguson sought unsuccessfully to unseat Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1950. Ferguson's job was not at stake in that contest but he admitted receiving politically-motivated mortal wounds that led to his downfall in 1952.

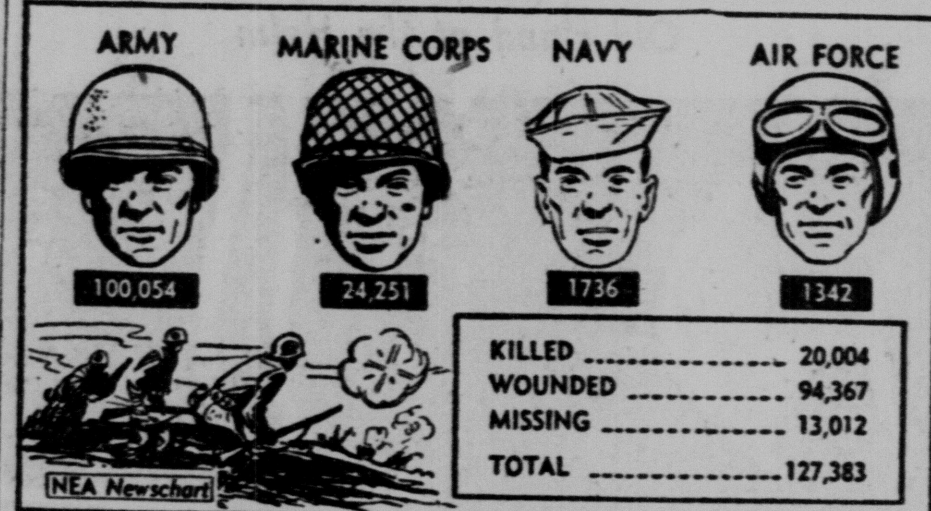

Ferguson entered state service in 1914 and became a leading vote-getter on the Democratic ticket while state auditor. He hasn't announced his plans after leaving office Jan. 12, if he has any.

Rhodes whipped Ferguson in a campaign that set the political fire flying. Disclosure of a Florida vacation trip by Ferguson in a state-owned car and published reports of "concrete" campaign contributions from contractors—later refunded as "unauthorized"—added to his woes.

Earlier complaints blamed Ferguson for delaying the start of a Northern Ohio turnpike by forcing a court test of its legality. The auditor said he merely was trying to do his job and that he didn't care what the papers printed about him so long as it was on Page One.

He "welcomed" an audit of his office and asked Gov. Frank J. Lausche to make several thousand dollars available to pay for one. The governor, cool toward Ferguson although a democrat, said the money wasn't available.

Legislators said the 100th General Assembly probably will forget about the furor over Ferguson now that a Republican will be state auditor for four years.

They explained GOP lawmakers won't favor shifting duties from Rhodes to finance director Herbert D. Defenbacher, although Defenbacher is a Republican. That's because Defenbacher serves at Lausche's pleasure.

Defenbacher is rounding out 14 years as finance director that began when Republican Sen. John W. Bricker was governor.

Freighters Collide In Mississippi River

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A freighter limped up the Mississippi River today after colliding with another freighter in the Gulf of Mexico yesterday.

Two tugs were sent to help the SS Bacchus, a Dutch-owned ship, make its way up the river to New Orleans for repairs.

The Bacchus and the SS Holberg, Norwegian-owned, crashed about three miles from the mouth of the Mississippi River in a heavy fog. A gaping hole was ripped in the Bacchus' hull, steering apparatus was damaged and the ship took 30 feet of water in one hold.

The Bacchus was on its way to New Orleans from Houston when the crash occurred. It apparently was in no danger of sinking. The Holberg proceeded back to New Orleans after the accident.

A member of the Bacchus' crew, Fernand Bonce, 33, of Haiti, was injured slightly. He is in a New Orleans hospital.

Diplomats See Hope For Korean Peace In Stalin Statements

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Stalin's statement that he favors diplomatic conversations on Korea is regarded by observers here as a preliminary offer to use his good offices in arriving at a Korean settlement.

Western diplomats in Moscow suggested today that a new Western approach—based on the Prime Minister's replies to questions by the New York Times—is now a possibility that must be seriously considered.

They said the next move probably would depend on U. S. President-elect Eisenhower's attitude on the question.

Several factors were mentioned as indicating that the Stalin statement on Korea might rate serious consideration:

1. The truce talks in Korea—now long deadlocked—were a direct result of a Soviet government declaration that it would help bring about a Korean settlement. No other official offer has been made since that one—in June, 1951.

2. Stalin's influence and authority are undoubtedly enormous in Communist China and North Korea as well as in the Soviet Union.

3. In another instance, intervention by Stalin—in the explosive situation created by the Berlin blockade—helped produce a settlement.

Western diplomats working within the Soviet Union also saw interesting possibilities in the Stalin statement that he would welcome

Sawyer's Swan Song

The mystery isn't what has come over Ohio's Charles Sawyer to make him renounce the party line of the creeping socialists but what made him hew to the line as secretary of commerce in the Truman cabinet.

The first verse to his swan song as a Fair Dealer was to blast the overhauling and all-around incompetence of the Mutual Security Agency. This is Averell Harriman's outfit, shortly to be turned over to Harold Stassen. So much for knuckle-headedness in foreign aid.

Then, in a letter acknowledging a report on antitrust legislation by the Business Advisory Council of the Department of Commerce, Mr. Sawyer hit a sour note for all the Fair Dealers, the New Dealers who preceded them and the Raw Dealers waiting to close in for the kill.

He declared in his official capacity as secretary of commerce what has been evident ever since the Department of Commerce was turned over to such eminent friends of enterprise as Harry L. Hopkins and Henry A. Wallace.

Business, Secretary conceded had been kicked around by a government which had unsympathetic motives. The Department of Justice had persecuted it with antitrust actions based on prejudice against bigness in business enterprise.

The net effect of letting business be man-handled by government was to damn a businessman if he did and to damn if he didn't. Whatever he did was wrong. He had a Hobson's choice between bankruptcy and prosecution.

This atmosphere will be changed under an administration which has renounced socialism as a proper goal for an American political party.

No longer will be the aim of Washington to destroy what it cannot control, in the hope of picking up the pieces for a new structure of statism.

No longer will the Department of Commerce and other federal departments and agencies be staffed with enemies of the free-enterprise system, subsidized on the federal payroll to undermine and overthrow the society which protected their right to attack it.

No one ever doubted that Charles Sawyer thought of himself as a defender of free enterprise in the camp of the enemy — and on occasion he sang out an alarm. But if he keeps singing the way he has been singing the last few days, he will be the only member of the Truman cabinet whose name will be remembered longer than a stutterer can say, "Dean Acheson."

Bacon, Gompers Style

A resolution by the New York State CIO Council calling on Adlai Stevenson to take active leadership in a "responsible opposition party" reflects the blunder committed by CIO leadership in the national election.

Having put all its eggs in the Democratic basket, the leadership now must find someone to carry the basket. Gov. Stevenson, even though he may be willing, is by no means secure in his own party position. There are Democrats tired of letting CIO politicians dictate to them.

Moreover, there are still a great many labor leaders who remember the admonition of Samuel Gompers to stay out of partisan politics because there's no percentage in trying to beat another man at his own game.

Gompers believed the purpose of a labor leader was to help labor, not politicians. That resolution by the New York State CIO Council calling on Gov. Stevenson to save the CIO's political bacon would have been a humiliating confession of error in the opinion of the man who sparked non-revolutionary unionism in the United States.

In Gompers' credo, the bacon always came first. Political ambitions and political defeats were for politicians, not labor leaders.

Out Of Character

Since one of the mysteries of Chinese Communism is how the Russians keep the mythical Chinese from giving their grim doctrine the horse laugh, a report like this one is reassuring:

Voice of America, ridiculing germ-warfare charges, broadcast a facetious description of fleas jumping from air planes over Korea.

The Chinese thought that was funny and have been embroidering on the Voice of America version. A report by an escaped prisoner says the Chinese version had the invading fleas equipped with hot-water bottles and compasses so they could survive in the cold and inhospitable terrain of North Korea.

It is impossible to say that certain ideologies and certain people are wholly incompatible. But certainly the Chinese, with their broad sense of humor and irrepressible fondness for whimsy, are as little suited to Marxism as are Americans for dictatorship.

Unionists Now Agree To Amending T-H Act

When the headlines tell the country that labor leaders are saying they now are for "amendment" instead of "repeal" of the Taft-Hartley Act, the incident serves to accentuate how easily the public can be misled by mere words that have a phony meaning.

Anybody who knows anything at all about procedures in writing legislation is aware that an "amendment" can actually repeal a whole section of a previous law, and that, if "repeal" is literally meant, then the entire law is wiped from the statute books and there is no legislation on that particular subject in force until a substitute law is passed.

Labor leaders for the last several years have shouted so loudly for "repeal" of the Taft-Hartley Act that they never cared to admit that something would have to take its place simultaneously or a gap would occur during which the country would not have a collective-bargaining law or any other regulation of the relations between labor unions and management.

The strategy always was to get the Taft-Hartley Act "repealed" completely as a matter of tactics so that, with no law on the books, the opponents of what the labor unions might propose would be under a panicky pressure to vote quickly for almost anything in order to get a labor-management law adopted.

Yet, in a broad sense, the problem always has been how to rewrite the Taft-Hartley Act so that the moment the rewriting was done — that is, the amendments were adopted — the country would go instantly from one labor-management law to another, thus avoiding legal technicalities and litigation that might arise from an interval in which no labor law was in effect.

When the labor leaders chose to use the word "repeal" as a slogan, many candidates for public office were misled by it. Thus Gov. Stevenson earlier this year said he favored "amendments" to the Taft-Hartley Act, but this didn't satisfy the labor leaders' ideas, and in due time on the stump the Democratic nominee shifted his position to suit the political winds and came out for "repeal," with the explanation that the Taft-Hartley Act was so complex that it had to be rewritten entirely. He confused a complete rewrite with a complete repeal. For the rewriting job itself didn't necessitate "repeal."

Sen. Russell, of Georgia, an aspirant for the Democratic presidential nomination, got caught last July in the verbal acrobatics about "repeal" and "amendment" and came out for "repeal," only to cause great anxiety among senators of his own party in the South who knew the implications of the battle over the two words — "amendment" and "repeal."

What's going to happen now is that the Taft-Hartley Act is going to be rewritten by amendments. There are certain sections which labor itself will not want to change. These are the provisions lifted bodily from the Wagner Labor Relations Act, which was on the statute books from 1935 until that law itself was "amended" in 1947 to include the new sections of the so-called Taft-Hartley Act.

The fight no longer is over procedure but substance. Labor-union leaders would have been glad to wipe out Taft-Hartley altogether, because they really wanted to get rid of the provisions that prohibit the "closed shop" monopoly.

Now they will have to mobilize enough votes in Congress to eliminate that section as a concrete issue.

It seems unlikely that Congress will remove the ban on "closed shops," but it is possible that some of the much-debated features of "union shop" will be clarified.

Likewise, there will be a big tussle over what is to be done in national emergencies to prevent strikes from paralyzing the economic system.

Labor could have obtained two years ago from congress clarifying amendments and the removal of certain objectionable features of the Taft-Hartley Act if the union chiefs had been disposed to allow the members of Congress controlled by them to permit amendments to pass.

But the politically minded among labor's chieftains thought there would be a better chance in the 1952 election to get a bigger pro-labor majority, so all attention was concentrated on the argument for "repeal."

This slogan has about outlived its usefulness for labor, and it is encouraging to the cause of labor-management peace that efforts are shortly to be made to "revise" the Taft-Hartley Act. For no law of this type can be considered permanent, because experience with decisions of the National Labor Relations Board and the federal courts constantly point up ambiguities and contradictions.

It is significant to note, however, the contrast between the Republican party's willingness to amend or rewrite the Taft-Hartley Act — something that has been apparent ever since 1950 — and the attitude of the Democratic leadership.

From the time of the passage of the Wagner Labor Relations Act in 1935 down to the time the Taft-Hartley Act was passed in 1947, the Democratic party refused absolutely to consider amendments of any kind, much less "repeal."

The Republican party seems already to be more tolerant than were the Democratic party leaders.

Health To You

Neuritis Is Problem To Treat

An obviously discouraged correspondent asks, "Is neuritis as incurable as all other forms of rheumatism? Is physiotherapy as good a treatment for relief as any?"

Reading between the lines one can assume that the writer has suffered painfully and long from an inflammation of the nerves called neuritis. Incidentally, it is somewhat better to call this neuritis than rheumatism since rheumatism is more often applied to aches and pains in the joints and muscles than it is to the nerves.

As to the question on physiotherapy, the answer depends on the kind of neuritis, on the condition of the patient, on the kind of physiotherapy, and particularly on whether the physiotherapy brings a certain amount of relief, or as is sometimes the case, makes the pain worse.

Now neuritis is defined as a painful condition of the nerves. In essence it means an inflammation of a nerve or nerves which is accompanied by pain and tenderness, disturbances of feeling or sensation, and usually a certain amount of wasting of the muscles.

Many causes may be responsible. The problem is to try to find which one is present. Vitamin deficiencies, especially the lack of vitamin B-1, may produce nerve pain. One type of neuritis is common among the victims of chronic alcoholism. Perhaps at least part of the reason for this is that such persons substitute alcohol for a properly balanced diet containing enough vitamin B-1.

This type of neuritis often can be much improved or even relieved entirely by giving enough of this vitamin. Neuritis is present in shingles, or herpes zoster. In this disease the cause of the trouble is a virus. Severe anemia can produce neuritis. Many chemical agents such as arsenic, and many of the substances used in industry may produce neuritis. Infections of almost any kind are frequent sources of difficulty.

Successful treatment is almost always a problem. Sometimes the pain is almost intolerable, particularly in people who have been weakened by disease and in the elderly. Relief has sometimes been obtained by killing the nerve, by injecting alcohol, or by cutting the nerve by an operation. Of course, this does not get at the bottom of the trouble, but it may be needed to ease the terrible pain.

So They Say

The past gains of the American working men and women are in jeopardy. This is the time to close ranks and present a united front against labor's enemies.—Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin.

The next few years will determine whether farmers are going to reap benefits from state experimentation through extension or through direct-line federal agencies.—Grange Master Herschel D. Newsom.

The Republican party seems to be fortunate in that it is making many serious mistakes before Gen. Eisenhower takes office — and he is catching them.

The senators share in the appointive power with the president, through the right of confirmation provided by the Constitution. While it is the entire Senate that does the confirming, usually two groups of senators have much to say: 1. The senators from the State from which the appointee comes; 2. The members of the senatorial committee which deals with the particular department in which the appointee will work.

If a senator were to declare an appointee "personally obnoxious" to him, the man is not likely to be confirmed.

GEN. EISENHOWER'S advisers either forgot these prerogatives or chose to ignore them on the assumption that once the appointment was announced, no one would dare do anything about it. However, a revolt among Republican senators quickly asserted itself. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, in her column, put the case succinctly when she wrote:

"... It also is rumored that the senators will not be given any say on patronage in their own states. The manner of the Durkin selection gives credence to this rumor."

If the rumor is true, then Ike is permitting some of his political advisers to get him in hot water, for he will find, as have other presidents, that the Senate cannot be dictated to. Each senator has the final say about appointments in his state — by merely rising on the floor of the Senate and objecting to any person nominated on the grounds that the nomination is "personally obnoxious" to the senator."

Gen. Eisenhower has now issued instructions that traditional processes shall prevail; that is, that senators, national committee men and state chairmen shall be consulted and their wishes be given due consideration. This is a wise and wholesome decision. It represents party responsibility.

ANOTHER ERROR of the Hotel Commodore planners was the effort to box in Sen. Taft who, during the days of the New Deal, represented the Republican party.

I am convinced that Gen. Eisenhower never intended that anyone in his entourage should attempt anything of the sort. Yet, they did. A synthetic misunderstanding was stimulated over the appointment of Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor.

All the traditions of congressional government required that Sen. Taft be consulted about this one appointment.

Actually, he was not. He was consulted about other names; never about this one. He first heard of it on Fulton Lewis' broadcast. And he growled.

There has never been a quarrel between Sen. Taft and Sen. Bridges over the floor leadership. Yet, the uncertainty over the position was magnified into a great political issue.

Gen. Eisenhower intervened and ended all speculation by an obvious announcement of support for Taft through Sen. Carlson of Kansas.

That was constructive politics on Eisenhower's part.

364 Days 'Til Christmas

By TRUMAN TWILL

Then there is the customer who starts to get his Christmas spirit on Dec. 26 and builds it up to a climax for the next 364 days.

Instead of turning off the whole idea as soon as Christmas is over, he turns it on. Then when everybody yammers about the Christmas spirit as though they had just personally discovered it, he yawns. That is the way he feels all the time.

The calendar does not need to say December to make this character feel like going out of his way to bring a smile to a sad face. He does not wait until postmen are staggering under their Christmas bundles to send a friendly greeting to someone who will appreciate it.

This fellow has no last-minute Christmas-shopping problems. His remembrances are continuous throughout the year. They are as likely to pop up during dog days as holidays.

Phrases like the "miracle of Christmas" do not make this unusual human being feel choked-up and wide-eyed when he understands what they mean. His understanding is continuous, not seasonal.

That warm feeling of good will which suffuses the heart and mind when it reaches epidemic proportions at Christmas-time suffuses the heart and mind of this remarkable person every day of the year. He is as susceptible to Christmas as anyone else, but it does not bowl him over. To him it is a continuation, not an interlude.

This remarkable specimen of mankind puts as much heartiness into "Good Morning" in September as he puts into "Merry Christmas" on Dec. 25.

His thinking and living embody the spirit of the thought and the Day After Christmas

"You stayed in bed all Christmas day, you big bum!" snapped the wife of Jubal Stookel, department store Santa.

"Put it in a letter, child," said Jubal, still half asleep, "that's a nice girl!"

"Put what in a letter?" demanded the wife. "Anything! Everything!" went on Jubal. "Santa will answer, my dear."

"Are you gonna get up? It's Friday noon," barked Mrs. Stookel.

"The day after Christmas comes once a year, but when it does it brings good cheer," sang the weary department store Kringle. "Yes, sweetie, I got your letter about the big sled and the skates. Run along now. Santa never forgets. Ha! Ha! Ha!"

"A fine way to behave as you did Christmas," said the wife, shaking him. "You didn't come downstairs once all day."

"Didn't I?" grunted Santa still in a haze. "Guess I didn't get your letter, after all. Write another and put it in the mailbox, and just address it to good old Santa, care of the North Pole."

"You ain't even seen our tree yet," snapped the wife.

"Put it in the letter, child, and Santa will come and look at the tree. That's a good girl."

"What's more you ain't seen what you got for Christmas," sobbed the wife, yanking his beard off the bedpost and flinging it across the room.

"I know what I'm getting... or was until you busted in... SLEEP," snapped Santa rubbing his eyes. "Yeah! Sleep wrapped in red ribbons... All done up with holly leaves!... Solitude!... The greatest gift I can think of... not a shopper around anywhere... not a fond mother shoving little Emil into my lap and telling him not to be scared."

"So you don't even like children!" sneered the wife.

"Not in lots of fifty and one hundred. They get monotonous after the first thousand. Scram!" barked Stookel.

"You certainly ruined Yuletide in THIS home," said Mrs. Stookel. "It wasn't what I expected."

"Put it all in a letter and I'll bring you a nice unruined Christmas next year, that's a dear child," said Stookel.

"Every other man in the neighborhood was up and around Christmas day spreading the true spirit," taunted the wife.

"Stop breaking my heart. I'll tell Donner and Blitzen on you," said Santa. "The other men in the neighborhood... Had they been putting on a padded red suit every morning for a month, donning smelly false whiskers and being pawed by strangers eight hours a day? Did they get fallen arches, grease-paint poisoning and corns on their laps?"

"Are you gonna get up?" demanded Mrs. Stookel, as Santa fell back on the pillows.

"Up Come! Up Cupid!" said Mr. Stookel. "To the top of the wall! Up everybody... EXCEPT SANTA."

"I demand attention," cried the wife. "I want a little consideration from you!"

"Attention? Consideration? They ain't on the list," rambled Santa. "You didn't say anything about them in your letter, little girl. Just asked for a doll."

Mrs. Stookel gave up. She saw it was useless.

Remember away back in the early days of the auto when you had to buy a dozen accessories before you could buy the car?

Well, auto buyers are squawking that things are getting as bad today... We priced a boiler the other day and the salesman said it was $1,850.

"You'll want the automatic drive?"... "Surely!"... "That's around $200 extra".... (Radio and heater ran into another couple of hundred, which was fair enough)... But then came the boffo... "Do you want positive action windshield wiper?" he asked... We certainly didn't want anything nonpositive about them, and were informed that would be extra... Also directional lights, rear back-up light and WHEEL BANDS!...

Then we went through the nearest window, deciding to turn everything in for a pogo stick, which comes complete with no bands, lights, springs or bolts extra.

Carol Sing Ends Yule Festivities

Children Given Treats; Church Services Held

COLUMBIANA — Pre-Christmas festivities in Columbiana came to a close Wednesday evening with the fourth annual community carol sing, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, at the public square, followed later by worship services in three churches.

Christmas observances began Tuesday afternoon, when about 400 children enjoyed a free show at the Globe theater. Seven hundred more were guests of Clipper Aerie of Eagles at the theater after they had received treats at the Eagles' tree on the public square Wednesday afternoon.

Ralph Mellinger, who recently moved from Lisbon to Columbiana, was the Eagles' Santa Claus and was the first man who could fill the Santa Claus suit without padding. Henry Keck of the North American Van Lines branch in Columbiana transported the Eagles' tree from the Clyde Hill farm near Petersburg.

Clipper Aerie will hold a benefit supper at the Eagles' home at 6 p.m. Saturday the proceeds to go toward the expense of the treat for the children.

Misty weather kept the crowd to about 1,000 for the carol sing. Treats were distributed to some 600 children. At 10 p.m., Christmas Eve candle-light services were held in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Presbyterian Church. Facing Main St. in front of Grace Church is a reproduction of the Bethlehem manger with the figures of Joseph and Mary and the Christ Child.

At Jerusalem Lutheran Church, a candle-lighting service was held at 11 p.m. Carolers from different churches sang for shut-ins about town.

Firestone American Legion Post lent its public address system for the broadcasting of Christmas music along Main St. during the holiday season.

COLUMBIANA INDUSTRIES remembered their employees at Christmas time with gifts. The National Rubber Machinery Co. passed out 438 hams, the F. C. Russell Co. 335 turkeys, the Columbiana Pump Co. 115 hams and the Enterprize Co. 150 turkeys. The Franklin Furniture Co. gave two parties for its 182 employees, in addition to remembrances.

MR. AND MRS. S. S. Stewart, formerly of Columbiana, are now located at Brethren Home, 1005 Hoffman Ave., Scalp Level, Pa., near Windber, the home of their son, Hadley. The home is a denominational farm of the Church of the Brethren, which produces fruits and vegetables, dairy products, meat animals and poultry. Mr. Stewart is a former postmaster of Columbiana.

Firestone American Legion Post had a Christmas party and treat for the children of members at the Legion home Tuesday evening.

The Columbiana Youngs will play the Warren Park Hotel Barbers, former Youngstown College stars, in Columbiana High School gym Saturday evening, Jan. 3. Next home games for the Columbiana Clippers is Tuesday evening, Jan. 13, against Lowellville. Next Tuesday they go to Leetonia, and Friday, to Lisbon.

Open church will be observed at the Christian Church at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 2, for the marriage of Miss Carolyn Jane Gano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gano of 109 N. Main St., and Gerald C. Finnie, son of Mrs. Anna Lou Nolsheim of 118 W. Railroad St.

A reception in the church dining room will follow the ceremony. Both the prospective bride and groom are students in college in Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Finnie is studying for the ministry in the Christian Church.

LITTLE FIRE VICTIMS—Connie Storm (left), 4, and her three-year-old brother, Dennis, were severely burned in their home in Decatur, Ill. before their father, Henry Storm, 28, broke a window and pulled them to safety. He also is hospitalized with serious burns and cuts. Storm also rescued a 14-month-old daughter, Linda, while his wife summoned aid. The father has been hospitalized with second and third degree burns.

Christmas Hangover

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The day after Christmas the man of the house is always a mouse.

The rest of the family seems able to take Christmas in stride. But it destroys him utterly.

On Christmas Day itself the man of the house is a mighty figure. He is up at dawn with the kids to help them open their presents. He accepts his own presents with fine grace—a purple necktie from sister, a blue necktie from junior, a green necktie from mother, and a new leather leash from Towser the family dog.

He snaps the leash on Towser, and they go for a long walk in the bracing air. The man of the house cheerfully calls "Merry Christmas" 167 times by count during this stroll, and mumbles "same to you" 154 times to people who greeted him first. He stops in briefly at five neighbors' homes, and admires all their presents.

The man of the house returns to find a torrent of children flooding through his own dwelling, yelling, screaming, and beating each other over the heads with their gifts. Five times he has to rescue the overturned Christmas tree and set it upright again.

The phone rings 413 times and each time the man of the house answers it with the same hearty refrain:

"Well, that was awful kind of you to call. Thank you, and a very Merry Christmas to you, too. And a Happy New Year."

The lady of the house then says, "I work my fingers to the bone cooking this Christmas dinner, and then I can't get anyone to sit down and eat it. If you don't all come this minute, I'll simply throw it all in the garbage pail." And the man of the house says tolerantly, "Now, mother, don't get excited."

And he is a majestic figure then, the man of the house, a veritable king of the table, as he carves the turkey and serves his brood.

An hour later, reduced to a semicomatose by all the food, he staggers to his favorite easy chair and for the next five hours sits in a torpor listening to the radio sing Christmas carols over... and over... and over. Finally the man of the house waddles heavily off to bed and thinks, as he falls asleep, "It's been a wonderful Christmas."

The day after Christmas this man of the house wakes up completely unnerved and exhausted. The spirit of good will has been replaced by the spirit of sodium bicarbonate.

"If you just hadn't eaten like a horse —" remarks the lady of the house.

The man of the house just wants to lie at rest and let time heal him. But no such luck. Sister wants to go right down town and exchange a gift sweater. And mother decides she'll go along and exchange a few things, too.

Red Truck Convoy Broken With Flare

U. S. ST. HAIR FORCE, Korea (AP)—The Air Force told today how the crew of a night-flying B-26 bomber broke up a Communist truck convoy with nothing but a flare.

Cruising over battered highways in the Eastern North Korean mountains, Maj. Orel C. Ouderkirck of Canton, Tex., saw supply trucks grinding over an ice-covered road with their lights on. The plane's bomb load already had been expended in knocking out 23 trucks.

"We had some target-making flares, so the major brought us in and we let one go right on top of the convey," said Capt. William Musladin of San Francisco.

"A tremendous explosion rocked the whole place," said Airman 2-C James E. McConaughy of Amsterdam, O.

Engineer - gunner Airman 1-C Alfred D. Agliarolo of Brooklyn, explained:

"When they switched out their lights, pandemonium broke out down there. Apparently a truck driver smashed into another truck in the darkness. They must have been loaded with ammunition or gas the way they blew up."

Wedding Anniversary Event Planned By Albany Rd. Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoerkel Sr. were married Christmas Day in 1927 and they are celebrating this event with an open house reception Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at their new home on the Albany Rd.

Celebrating with the couple are their son and wife, Lt. and Mrs. Bill Stoerkel, who have arrived from Texas on their honeymoon. Lt. Stoerkel and Laura Duzan of Temple, Tex. were married Dec. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoerkel have two other sons, Pfc. Tom Stoerkel who is on his way home from Korea, and Frank Stoerkel Jr. at home. Olive Caris and Frank Stoerkel were married Dec. 25, 1927 in Chillicothe at the home of the bride's brother, Harold Caris. The couple came here from Ravenna two years ago. Mr. Stoerkel is employed as pharmacist at Hedgeson's Pharmacy. Both are active in the Methodist Church and Mrs. Stoerkel is a member of Salem City Hospital Auxiliary.

Gold Star Auxiliary Has Coverdish

After a business meeting conducted by members of the Gold Star Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Tuesday evening at the post, a coverdish supper was served. Guests included members of the Dad's Club and Allen K. Reynolds Post.

President Mrs. Florence Means presented each guest with an ash tray designed with a red Christmas stocking encircled with green pine. Favors were candy canes.

A large Christmas tree complete with lights added to the holiday atmosphere. Pictures to commemorate the occasion were taken by one of the guests, Pete Stankovich. In appreciation of his interest in the club during the past year, he was presented a gift by members of the auxiliary.

Serving the supper were Mrs. Anna Crum, Miss Jannie Royle, Mrs. Alfred August, Mrs. Yvonne Sveum, Mrs. Iva Myrtle and Mrs. Esther Hirsch.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Means. Communications read by Mrs. Eleanor Beeson, secretary, included a "thank you" card from Mrs. James Girard of Salem; a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dickey of Salem; and greetings from the Sue Marlin Company of Philadelphia and Mrs. Marion Fox of Youngstown, department president.

Mrs. James Rhodes personally thanked auxiliary members for the gift she received from them when she was a patient in the Youngstown North Side Hospital.

Mrs. August and Miss Royle are in charge of the December project. The lunch committee for the dance Saturday is comprised of Mrs. Fred Snyder, Mrs. Charles Dimko, Mrs. Nick Hatzagan and Mrs. Means.

After the meeting was adjourned, a gift exchange was held, with distribution by Mrs. Sveum and Mrs. August.

The next meeting will be Jan. 12, with Mrs. Beeson and Mrs. Sveum as lunch committee chairmen.

A Christmas party was held Monday evening for children of members of the auxiliary, V.F.W., and Dad's Club. A movie was shown for entertainment. "Santa" (James Rhodes) distributed gifts to each child.

Assisting at the party were Mrs. Means, Mrs. Beeson and Mrs. Robert Talbot.

With The Patients

Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, who fell and broke her hip in June was taken Dec. 1 to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Yates, RD 3, Salem. Her condition is fairly good.

Winona Pastor To Marry Cleveland Girl

Miss Ellen Haas of Cleveland has chosen Saturday, Feb. 7, for her marriage to Paul Brantingham, pastor of the Winona Friends Church.

The ceremony will be celebrated at 8 p.m. in the Cleveland Heights Missionary Church. Custom of open church will be observed.

Miss Haas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Haas of Shelby. Her fiancé is the son of Revs. Martin and Lydia Brantingham of RD 2, Salem.

The future bride is a graduate of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky. As professor of music, she served on the faculty of Cleveland Bible College for three years and is now working on her master's degree in music at the Western Reserve University.

Mr. Brantingham is a graduate of Salem High School and attended Cleveland Bible College.

Announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Haas and Mr. Brantingham was made last Sunday when open house was observed at the Winona Friends parsonage. The parsonage, recently redecorated, was also rededicated on that day.

The wedding date of the couple was revealed on a piece of "sheet music" on which were "wedding bells." Concealed inside the bells were the words "Ellen and Paul Feb. 7, 1953." The piece of "music" was placed on the piano.

Approximately 100 people visited the parsonage on this occasion, including guests from Salem and Cleveland.

Major Robert Beck Feted At Reception

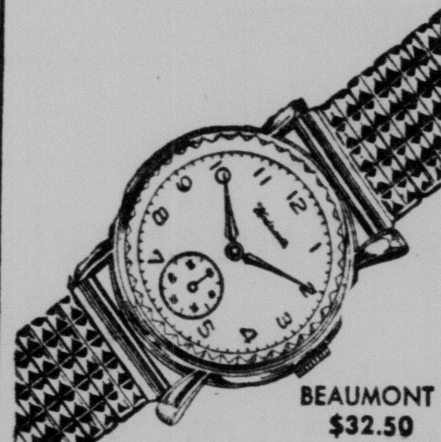

In honor of their son, Major Robert O. Beck, and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Beck of 614 N. Ellsworth Ave. entertained friends and relatives at an open house reception on Wednesday, Dec. 17 at their home.

Major Beck, who has been with the United States Air Force since 1942, spent a 10-day furlough with his parents. He will report for duty at Camp Stoneman, Calif. and from there will go to Japan.

Assisting Mrs. Beck with the party were her daughter, Mrs. Ray Greenamyre, and Mrs. James Hinkle. The major's wife and two children, Susan and Jimmy, are making their home here with his parents while he is overseas.

Yule Party Held At Nursing Home

Christmas came early for patients at the Donahue Nursing Home when Mrs. C. E. Donahue entertained at a party Monday evening at the home on the Valley Rd., near Damascus.

Numbered among the guests were the relatives of the patients. Sleighbells heralded "Santa Claus," who distributed gifts from beneath the beautifully decorated tree. Each patient received a gift from Mrs. Donahue and others from the visitors.

Rev. Robert Mosher, pastor of the Damascus Friends Chrch, read the Nativity story from the scriptures and Mrs. Donahue told a Christmas story. Songs and recitations were included in the entertainment presented by Gail, Margaret and Melton Donahue. Refreshments served by the hostess concluded the enjoyable evening.

Miss Carol Steffel To Wed Victor Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Steffel of 843 Aetna St. announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Victor Lake, son of Mrs. Thelma Lake of 1108 Liberty St.

No date has been set for the wedding.

The bride-to-be and her fiancé are both graduates of Salem High School in the class of 1950. She is employed in the office of the Salem City Hospital and he is an employee in the drafting room at the Deming Co.

Miss Jacqueline Parker, student at Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y., is home for the holidays. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parker of Newgarden St.

Former Salem Girl To Be Married Jan. 1

Relatives have been advised of the approaching marriage of Miss Jean Headrick of Bement, Ill., and Lt. Don Bornell, who is stationed at Quantico, Va., which will be an event of Thursday, Jan. 1.

The bride-elect, a daughter of the late Mrs. Ethel Headrick, is a graduate of Salem High School and Illinois University. Until recently she was employed as an art teacher. The couple will reside at Quantico, where Lt. Bornell is stationed with the Marines.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marshall of Cleveland were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Krauss of S. Union Ave.

Saxon Society Has Officer Election

With the advent of 1953, Rudolph Bodendorfer will start his third year as president of Branch 19 of the Transylvania Saxon Society. Election of society officers took place last Sunday in the Saxon Hall.

Andy Kekel Jr. will be vice president; Simon Wagner, second vice president; Herman Linder, recording secretary; Alfred Konnerth, treasurer; Ronald Fleischer, financial secretary.

Trustees elected Daniel Weber, for three years; Simon Spack, two years; Gustave Falk and Andy Klein, one year and Fred Theiss Sr., held over to serve two years. Orphan father will be Andrew Drotleff. Matt Drotleff and Albert Spack will serve as marshals and Henry Heidenreich will be property officer. Re-elected as Central Verband Secretary was John Ulrich and John Spack, juvenile secretary.

Lunch was served by Eugene and Albert Spack.

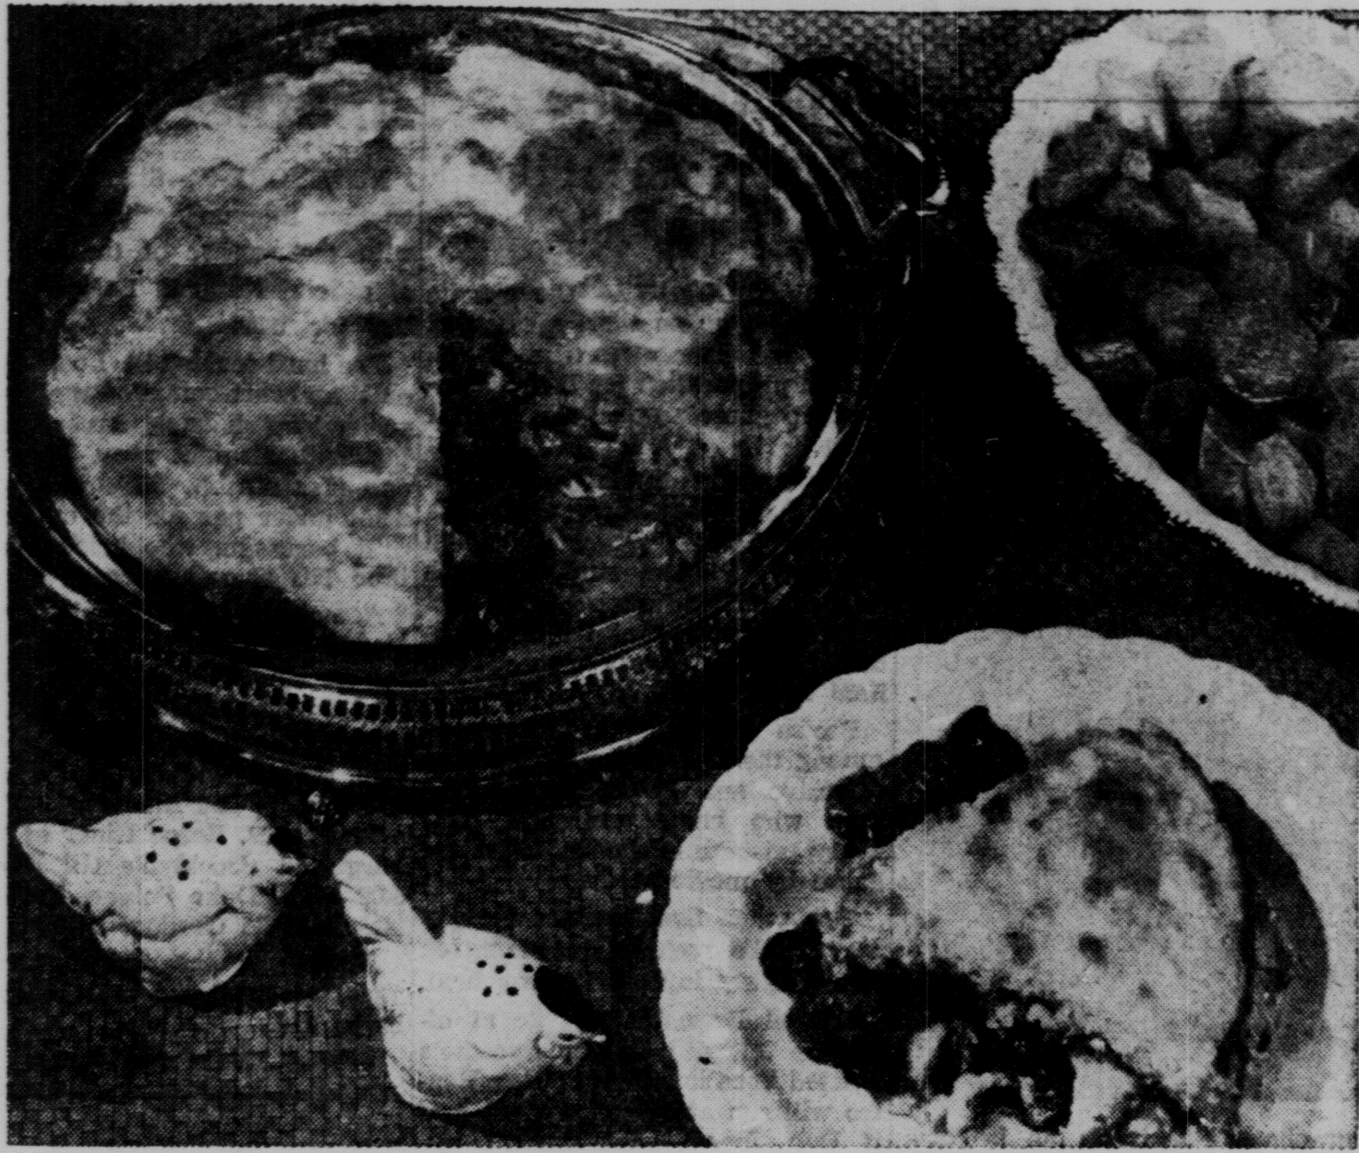

The meeting was opened by Mr. Bodendorfer but, as is the custom, the chair was turned over to George Theiss, past president, who conducted the election and installation. Friday, Jan. 2 at 8 o'clock is the date of the next meeting.

Giblet Pie Uses Leftover Chicken

Here's a recipe budget-wise homemakers will treasure because it puts to delicious use the giblets and leftover scraps of cooked chicken, duckling or turkey. A chicken pie with a new twist, it's one that will have the family come a'runnin' when they hear the call for dinner.

Chicken Giblet Pie

1-3 cup graham rice cereal
2-3 cup hot milk
3 tablespoons minced onion
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/4 cups chicken broth
3-oz can chopped broiled mushrooms
1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
1/4 cup sliced stuffed olives

2 cups cooked chicken giblets and leftover meat, diced
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon oil
1 cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Place rice cereal and hot milk in a mixing bowl. Let stand 15 minutes. Meanwhile melt fat in saucepan. Add onion and cook 1 minute. Stir in flour. Add chicken broth and contents of can of mushrooms. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add the kitchen bouquet, olives and the cooked chicken. Mix gently, then pour into greased 8-inch round baking dish. Add egg and oil to rice cereal and mix well. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together over the rice mixture. Add parsley and mix just until smooth. Drop mixture evenly over the chicken in the baking dish. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 F., until topping is lightly browned about 25 minutes. Serve immediately cut in wedges. Yields 4 to 6 servings.

'Colts' And 'Fillies' Carol On Horseback

Caroling on horseback was the unique style successfully inaugurated by members of the Salem Colts and Fillies Club Tuesday evening.

Meeting at the home of John Phillips of N. Hawley Ave., 16 of the members broke up into pairs and toured several sections of the city.

Among places visited were the Home for the Aged and the Clinic Hospital. Gay ribbons, sheep bells, sleigh bells, and even Christmas tree ornaments were effectively used to decorate the horses.

After caroling, all 21 active club members met at the home of Miss Helen Marie Potter of Highland Ave.

Lunch was served by Helen Marie, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Robert Potter.

On Monday evening, the group met at the home of Judy Bowman of Highland Ave.

In conformance with previous plans, each member received a "horsy" item in a gift exchange.

Despite the fact an English bride is made up of more parts than a Western Pack, and the considerable difference between the two in terminology, Miss Bowman and Miss Potter, respectively, captured honors in a written contest identifying the parts of an English bride.

Plans were discussed regarding the purchase of club jackets, and possibly jerseys.

Edward Sullivan, a member of the club, played guitar accompaniment for group singing of popular songs. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be the first part of January at the Washington Ave. home of Butch Doyle.

Some of the 13 reasons why
WHITE WATER-HOTTERS ARE BETTER

1. White Enamel Finish—White's special durable enamel baked on by modern infra-red process maintains smooth, attractive appearance for years.
2. Pure White Fiberglass Insulation—Attains highest insulating efficiency. Keeps the water hotter, longer.
3. Inside Tank of Copper Bearing Steel—Zinc-lined. White's modern method of automatically freezing zinc slowly permits absorption of an extra durable zinc coating, inside and out, materially increasing life and safety of tank.
4. Butt-Welded Tank Construction—Absence of crevices or deep seams eliminates voids in galvanizing... does away with corrosion common with conventional lap joints.
5. Tank Supports—Reduce heat conduction away from tank... form strong permanently rigid base.
6. Recessed Base—Toe space type in conformity with the latest in home design.
7. Removable Front Panel—Permits easy access to operating areas.
8. Compact Design—Easy to handle—easy to install—requires little floor space.

6.9% MORE Film of Flame hot water than most utility requirements with a White electric, because White's EXCLUSIVE Water-Hotter bottle diffuses and tempers incoming cold water—permits 6.9% more hot water withdrawal.

43,000 Watch All-Star Teams Duel

North, South Battle Ends In 21-21 Tie; Tide Reversed Twice In Final 58 Seconds

NEW YORK (AP)—College football's holiday week of high hysteria is under way—and seldom has it opened on a more hysterical note.

In a wild conflict that saw the tide reversed twice in the final 58 seconds, all-star teams from the North and South fought to a 21-21 tie in the annual Shrine game at Miami last night.

With two seconds less than a minute to go, the North shot ahead, 21-14, on a five-yard pass from Purdue's Dale Samuels to an old battery mate, Bernard Flowers.

Just 20 seconds were left when Jack Scarbath, Maryland's All-America T wizard, fired a pass to halfback Jack Hook of Missouri good for 64 yards and the tying touchdown. Hook had to run the last 20.

This provided a fitting finish for an exciting battle which opened with a 95-yard touchdown run by Scarbath. Scarbath and All-America line-backer Donn Moomaw shared the game's Most Valuable Player Award. A record crowd of 42,866 watched it.

The game set a rugged standard for the holiday program which gains momentum tomorrow with two of the older all-star attractions—the East-West charity game at San Francisco and the Blue-Gray battle at Montgomery, Ala., plus the Shrimp Bowl game at Galveston, Tex.

These are followed by eight bowl games next Thursday, Jan. 1, and the senior bowl tilt at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 3.

At Galveston tomorrow, undefeated Northeast Oklahoma State defends a nine-game season's streak against Sam Houston State, which has won five games and lost four. The battle will start at 4:15 p.m., EST, before an anticipated turnout of 9,000.

A crowd of 62,000 is expected to pay more than a quarter of a million dollars to witness the Shrine charity battle at San Francisco, which rivals the Rose Bowl in tradition. The game, with kickoff at 5 p.m., EST, will be broadcast by Mutual and televised by DuMont.

The Blue-Gray skirmish, pitting picked squads from above and below the Mason-Dixon line, probably will be played before a crowd of 22,000 with a $60,000 gate. Mutual will broadcast. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The Northern boys in this fracas were cheered by a weather forecast which predicted a hard freeze at Montgomery tonight and nippy, Yankee weather. This would be calculated to disturb the Dixie players.

The Blues are depending on a passing attack, with Detroit's Ted Marchibroda and Indiana's Lou d'Achille doing the throwing. The Grays are pinning their offensive hopes on William & Mary's Ed Mioduszewski, Auburn's Dudley Spence and Texas A&M's Hal Ledyard.

At San Francisco, the Eastern team will be coached by Biggie Munn of Michigan State, who led his Spartans to the recognized national championship this season. Howie Odell of the University of Washington will direct the Westerners.

Munn said his boys will go into the game equipped with 45 different play patterns from the T, single wing, double wing and spread formations, provoking Odell to comment:

"All we have to do is hope and pray our defense holds up."

There were several developments, meanwhile, as the various bowl teams shook off holiday inactivity and moved into rough work for the Jan. 1 games.

At Knoxville, it was announced that Gen. Bob Neyland, veteran Tennessee coach, is ailing and may be a spectator at the Cotton Bowl game with Texas in Dallas. Because of his health, Neyland was forced to turn over the coaching burden to his chief aide, Harvey Robinson.

The single touchdown odds favoring Georgia Tech over Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans wobbled a bit with the revelation that Tech's two ace backs, Billy Teas and Leon Hardeman, may be out of the battle because of injuries.

East-West Game Set For Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stars who made football headlines on many college gridirons this season combine talents here Saturday in the name of charity—the East-West game.

Players, representing practically every section of the country, will battle in the 28th annual classic that provides funds for the San Francisco Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. More than a million dollars has been turned over to the cause since the first game was played Dec. 26, 1925.

All profits go into the fund. The contestants receive an engraved gold wrist watch, the plaudits of the crowd and the lasting gratitude of the afflicted children they are helping to become rehabilitated.

Weather permitting, a capacity throng of 62,000 will attend. The game was sold out last August. It will be televised nationally over the Dumont network and broadcast over Mutual network, both starting at 4:45 p.m. EST.

The West has been established as a six-point favorite.

Scarbath's Touchdown Pass Not Planned By The Coaches

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Scarbath's, limp from excitement — wasn't planned by the coaches.

Hook, Missouri's top ground gainer, suggested the play to South Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami in the fading seconds of the thriller-packed contest as the South stood with its back to the wall, trailing 21-14.

"I'll have to put the ball way up there, Jim," warned Scarbath, Maryland's All-America quarterback, "and you've got to run like hell for it."

As the ball was snapped, Hook darted to the right, cut straight downfield to the North 25, then crossed in front of the North safety to take the skyscraper from Scarbath. Michigan State's Johnny Wilson grabbed for the Missourian at the five but couldn't bring him down.

It was a spectacular finish to the most thrilling battle in the history of the Shrine's annual classic for the benefit of its crippled children, and it boosted the organization's hopes that this game some day will pack the 65,000 seats of the Orange Bowl.

The play was uncorked with 20 seconds to go, and just 38 seconds after the passing combination that won Purdue a share of the Big Ten football championship — Dale Samuels to Bernard Flowers—had clicked on a six-yard touchdown play to boost the North into a 21-14 lead.

Offensively, the game developed into a tense aerial duel, with Scarbath and Samuels in a neck-and-neck race for the honors, but sparkling defensive line play almost took the spotlight away from the backfield stars.

Donn Moomaw, UCLA's giant line-backer voted the nation's outstanding lineman of the year, and Maryland's rangy end, John Alderton, broke up one drive after another by knocking enemy backs for tremendous losses. Moomaw picked a fumble out of the air to run 35 yards for a North touchdown.

In a press-box ballot, Moomaw was chosen most valuable player on the north side and Scarbath on the Rebel team.

Samuels completed 21 passes in 29 tries to break the series record for number of completions established last year by Vanderbilt's Bill Wade. Wade's 15 gained 250 yards, however, to 193 netted by Samuels.

Scarbath broke through tackle in the first period to scout 95 yards on the longest touchdown run in the history of the series.

With Oklahoma's fullback Buck McYhtil in fake punt formation, Scarbath was supposed to hand off to Virginia's halfback Bob Tata going into the right side. But they missed connections and Scarbath was left juggling the ball in his left hand behind his back.

As Scarbath darted into the line, a quartet of blockers came to his aid. At the North 30, Tata got back into the play with a block that cut down two Yankees.

Star Is Ineligible; Trojan Stock Drops

PASADENA (AP)—Wisconsin, the peer of the Big Ten Conference at the running game, is beginning to gain favor here for its New Year's game in the Rose Bowl with Southern California.

The ruling earlier this week that Jim Psaltis, star Trojan defensive back, is ineligible for the game, has dropped USC stock considerably.

One Pacific Coast conference coach, although clinging to anonymity, says the loss of Psaltis makes the difference between the teams. He said he leaned somewhat toward Wisconsin anyhow, but that with Psaltis unavailable to defend against passes and support the linebackers, Wisconsin's drives through the center, with Alan Ameche spearheading the attack, are going to be mighty hard to stop.

Psaltis was ruled ineligible because he played junior varsity football at Santa Rosa Junior College. He ranked second, nationally, in pass interceptions, with nine.

If the loss of Psaltis has hurt the Trojan morale it isn't noticeable in the team's training efforts. The squad took Thursday off for individual Christmas celebrations, but was hard at it again today.

Considerable emphasis is being placed on improving the USC passing game.

Santa Claus is a regular Christmas-night travelling companion of the New York Rangers.

The Broadway Blues, currently in the cellar of the National Hockey League, added to the luster of a unique Christmas record Thursday night as they dropped the Boston Bruins, 2-1, in Boston.

The Rangers' Christmas — night record now stands at 17 wins, one tie and three defeats in the last 22 years.

The Detroit Red Wings, meanwhile, continued to put a new twist to an old success formula in remaining on top of the league—"If you can't beat 'em, tie 'em."

Thanks to some spectacular clutch shooting by their league-leading scorer, Gordie Howe, the Wings played their fifth straight draw on home ice as they tied the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-3.

Record Book To List Giardello As Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—As far as the ring record book is concerned, middleweight Joey Giardello will be listed as the winner over Billy Graham in their controversial battle a week ago at Madison Square Garden.

Editor Nat Fleischer said today he planned to list Giardello as the winner with an explanatory note about the reversed decision.

Robert Christenberry, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, arbitrarily changed the card of Judge Joe Agnello and gave the verdict to Graham after Giardello had been declared the victor.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies was the only National League hurler to win 20 games in 1952. He won 28 for a fourth-place team.

Lions Favored Over Browns

Both Teams Let Up On Heavy Drills

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Browns let up on the heavy work today and concentrated more on mental preparation for their championship game against the Detroit Lions.

The amount of memory work Coach Paul Brown demands of his gridiron PHD's would startle a professor. Players stuff so much information into their heads and thick notebooks that the game itself comes as sort of a three-hour final examination.

Brown plans to put 17 veterans among the 22 men on the starting offensive and defensive lineups—men who know well that their every mistake is checked after the game by movies.

The other five starters Sunday may all be rookies, depending on how quickly injured Browns heal.

Derrell Brewster will go at offensive left end if Mac Specie's twisted knee is still bad; Ray Reifro will run at offensive right half if Dub Jones' knee doesn't improve; and Bob Gain will start at defensive left tackle of John Kissel's sprained ankle isn't in shape.

The other first-year men have been playing all season — Bert Rechichar at safety and Joe Skibinski at offensive right guard.

Brown now says "we have a chance" if the Browns play at their "absolute peak." Bettors favored the Lions by 3 points.

The Lions wound up their heavy drills for the championship game with a morning workout.

Parker said defensive tackle Johnny Prechik, one of two players injured in last Sunday's play-off game with the Los Angeles Rams, would be ready to start against the Browns.

Offensive guard Dick Stanfel is still a questionable starter for the Lions.

Parker also indicated his squad was taking the championship game in stride.

"I don't think the championship game is any different to the players than any other important league contest," he declared, "and when it comes to important games—brother we've had em. Actually we had to play 10 crucial games in a row this season after our two losses to the San Francisco 49ers."

Martinez Rated 8 To 5 Favorite

NEW YORK (AP)—Flashy Vince Martinez was rated an 8 to 5 favorite to rack up his 12th straight victory tonight at the expense of Don Williams in the main 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The wavy-haired, 23-year-old bobby sox idol from Paterson, N. J., returns to the ring after a six months' absence because of bad hands. In Williams, a 24-year-old veteran of 70 pro contests, Martinez will be meeting his most experienced opponent to date.

Winner of 24 of 25 scraps, Martinez outpointed slambang Sammy Giuliani in a thrilling tilt in the garden June 20. That was Vince's last start.

Their 10 p. m. EST bout will be telecast coast to coast.

Rocky Marciano Reaps Harvest Of Trophies

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will have to build himself a big house to hold all the trophies being heaped on him these days. Ring magazine, the boxing bible, added another today by naming the Brockton, Mass., blaster as "The Fighter of the Year" for 1952.

At the same time, Ring Editor Nat Fleischer, picked Chuck Davey, undefeated welterweight contender from East Lansing, Mich., for his Ring Progress Award.

Behind Marciano in the heavyweight rankings, Ring rated Jersey Joe Walcott, Camden, N. J., Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, Rex Layne of Lewiston, Utah, and Roland La Starza of New York.

'52 Statistics Give Musial Another Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial had another title under his belt today with the release of the final set of official National League statistics for 1952.

The hard-socking St. Louis Cardinals' stalwart compiled the highest senior loop slugging percentage for the sixth straight year. His average last season, .538, was somewhat under par for the outfielder-first baseman, who holds the all-time NL slugging record of .579.

Associated Press tabulations released last October also had Musial the National League's slugging leader with an identical .538 figure.

Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs was second with a .531 average followed by Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, .509. Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Brooklyn's Gil Hodges, .500 each, Duke Snider, Brooklyn, .495 and Sid Gordon, Boston, .483.

Kiner, for the second straight year, received the most bases on balls, 110.

Rookie Eddie Mathews of the Boston Braves struck out the most times, 115.

Solly Hemus, St. Louis, was hit most often by pitched balls, 20, while teammate Peanuts Lowrey had the fewest strikeouts of players in 100 or more games, 13.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella grounded into the most double plays, 22.

In the team figures, the New York Giants grounded into the fewest double plays, 96 and Brooklyn grounded into the most, 151. Pittsburgh struck out the most times, 724.

Of the eight major league records established last season, six of them came as a result of the 15 runs Brooklyn scored in the first inning against Cincinnati, May 21.

DeSpirito Tries To Beat Win Record

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Plucky Tony DeSpirito was to fly to Miami from Havana today for seven more races in an effort to better the all time record of 388 wins in a year.

DeSpirito won three races Christmas Day in Havana to tally his 376th and will fly back to the Cuban capital for additional races Sunday, when the Florida track is idle. He needs 12 more wins to equal the record set by Walter Miller in 1906 and equaled by Joe Culmone and Willie Shoemaker in 1950.

His 376 wins to date put him ahead of Culmone and Shoemaker who had 373 and 371 at this stage in 1950.

"I still think I have a good chance to break the record," DeSpirito said at Havana. He will finish his campaign here after Sunday's card at Oriental Park in the Cuban capital.

DeSpirito returned to the saddle on his 18th birthday Christmas Eve after a 10-day suspension and won three races at Tropical Park.

He can equal the world's record if he averages only two wins a day on each of the six days remaining in the year.

The Lawrence, Mass., rider had two seconds and two shows in addition to three wins at Havana Thursday. He was out of the money only once in eight rides for the day.

He scored in the second aboard Galese, won the featured seventh on Sally's Last, and made it a triple in the eighth astride Genorosos.

DeSpirito could do no better than third on the opening race in Havana aboard Little Hatchet. He was second in the third race astride Liberated, second again in the fourth when Green Spring barely lost first place to a $14 for $2 shot, Fight. He was third again in the sixth on Wise Vicki. In the fifth race he was out of the money.

He was due here by plane at 11:05 a.m. and will be in the saddle in Tropical's first race astride Prescott.

Other mounts listed for him are Golden Mean or Count Off in the second; Black Boy in the fourth; First Grandson in the fifth; Saucy Colleen in the sixth; Easy Paddy in the featured seventh, and Coat of Blue or Trigger Happy in the eighth.

He is scheduled to sit out the third and ninth.

Freshman Fred Wyant quarterbacked every West Virginia touchdown this season. He passed for eight TDs, scored five and handed off for the other 22.

IN WIGWAM — Bob Hooper went to the Cleveland Indians for southpaw Dick Rozek after compiling an 8-15 record with the Philadelphia Athletics, his first losing campaign in three years.

Woman To Have 4th Child, May Not Survive Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doomed by the incurable lymphatic ailment Hodgkins' disease, a mother of three children was to undergo a Caesarean section today for her fourth child—although doctors said the operation will shorten the tenacious thread of her own life.

"But if I can have my baby I'll die happy," said attractive Mrs. Jean Garrett, 27-year-old Hawthorne, Calif., housewife.

"Death is the least of my worries now."

Doctors said growth of her child-to-come has drained Mrs. Garrett's resistance to the cancerous blood condition and that her chances of surviving the surgery are none too good. They said her baby has a chance of being normal, however.

Although the shadow of death hovered over the home of Mrs. Garrett and her husband, Thomas, an aircraft worker, she smiled bravely last night as she bid her children good night. Before she and her husband started for Angel's Hospital she told a few friends, "This was the best Christmas ever."

She had determined long ago that this, perhaps her last, Christmas, would be a day of gaiety, with her husband and sons, Thomas Jr., 7; Robert, 3; and Raleigh, 18 months. Physicians told her when she became pregnant that she could prolong her life by giving up the child.

"Why, I feel that a baby has as much right to live as anyone else," she said in making her decision.

So yesterday Mrs. Garrett joined with her children in singing Christmas songs and in their glees at what Santa had left them around the gaily decorated Christmas tree.

There have been scores of offers from blood donors, some from as far east as Chicago, and letters of hope have flooded the Hawthorne home.

"We have thanked God for those who have written so encouragingly," said the husband. "They have given us the thing we need most—hope."

Bears Take 2nd Place In Hockey League

By The Associated Press

The Hershey Bears are No. 1 contender to pace-setting Cleveland in the American Hockey League race today.

Murry Henderson slammed across the winning goal Thursday night as the Bears whipped the Pittsburgh Hornets, 3-2, to take over second place in the standings.

Hershey has 33 points compared with 32 for the Hornets, who dropped to third. Idle Cleveland leads the circuit with

No Change Reported In Brodie Twins

CHICAGO (AP)—No change was reported today in the condition of the Brodie Siamese twins.

The 15-month-old boys have been in critical condition since they were separated in an operation on Dec. 17 at the University of Illinois Hospital. The twins were born joined at the heads.

Rabbits breed four to eight times a year, having litters of six to eight.

Ceramic Exhibits On Display Jan. 1

Ohio's importance in the field of ceramics is again emphasized in the fifth Annual Ohio Ceramic Show on view Jan. 1 to 25 at the Butler Art Institute in Youngstown.

This is the first of several varied shows of Ohio art planned by the Youngstown Gallery in connection with the Ohio Sesquicentennial Celebration.

Ceramic, enamels and pottery items in the exhibit number 112 by 51 residents of the state and four former residents. An additional group of ceramics displayed are by Viktor Schreckengost, Salem, China Co., ceramist, painter and industrial designer, who judged the exhibit. He selected winners of $25 in cash prizes as follows:

$100—Edward Winter, Cleveland, for an enamel, "Gourds."

$100—Charles Lafoksky, Bowling Green, for tea set and bottle.

$100—Paul Bogatay, Columbus, for sculpture, "Baboon."

$50—Kenneth A. Bates, Cleveland for an enamel.

$50—Harry S. Richardson, Cleveland, for bowl and plate, and bottle.

$50—Miriam Peck, E. Cleveland, for a group of two.

$50—Frank Woodworth Rood, Cleveland, for jar and plate.

$25 James Edward Peck, Seattle, Wash., for a group of three.

Butler Art Institute is open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m. every day except Mondays.

Two Townships Exceed Christmas Seal Goals

Two Columbiana County townships have surpassed their Christmas Seal goals. They are Hanover Township, with a goal of $400, which reached $406.48, and St. Clair Township with $112.60, or $2.60 over its goal.

Lee B. Vincent, Perry Township chairman, reports $5,443.50 today. The total is $6,000.

The total subscribed to date in the county is $23,553.37. The money is used in the tuberculosis detection program of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

George Osborne Dies In Youngstown Hospital

YOUNGSTOWN—George E. Osborne, 74, former secretary-treasurer of the Hearn Paper Co., died yesterday afternoon in South Side Hospital.

He had taught in the Mahoning county school system, and in 1915, joined the Hearn-Miller Co. He was one of the organizers and directors of the Hearn Paper Co. and was secretary-treasurer when he retired in 1947.

Surviving are his widow, Lola; three sons and a daughter.

The chemical basis for life is the oxidation of tissue.

Tax Probe

The bureau under the reorganization program which took effect last March, and which eliminated the offices of collector of internal revenue—political plums before the reorganization plan placed them under civil service.

Rep. Keas (R-NJ), who will succeed Rep. King (D-Calif.) as chairman of the subcommittee after Jan. 3, has said the subcommittee will act promptly to start public hearings on the alcohol tax unit, and will look into possible "political infiltration" of the reorganized revenue bureau.

The subcommittee's final report dealt primarily with reforms already effected as a result of its hearings over the past year and a half.

In a series of legislative and administrative recommendations, however, it suggested stricter policing of both taxpayers and government agents.

One way to "reduce possible corrupt practices in the bureau is to minimize the opportunities and temptations," the subcommittee said.

As safeguards, it recommended: 1. A larger tax enforcement staff, with higher pay and assurance of non-political merit promotions for agents.

2. Requirements for detailed record keeping by taxpayers to substantiate their tax return claims, and to reduce the degree of discretion permitted agents in allowing deductions.

3. A requirement for disclosure of the source and nature of a taxpayer's income—a weapon intended for use against racketeers and tax evaders.

4. Elimination of the practice of claiming tax deductions, as business expense, of tax-free benefits to key employees and "overly liberal" expense accounts constituting a form of tax-free income.

5. Full publicity by the bureau on tax compromises and administrative decisions affecting taxpayers. The bureau already has instituted a policy of limited publicity.

Obituary

Mrs. Ephraim Buzard

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Mary A. Buzard, 85, of RD 1, Poland, died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at her home.

Born Sept. 16, 1867, in Springfield Township, she was the daughter of John and Catherine Hess Paulin. She was married Sept. 25, 1890, at New Springfield and the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Clarence Neidig of Youngstown; three sons, Ralph Buzard of North Lima, Harry of New Springfield and Lawrence of Youngstown; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. She was the last of her family.

The body is at the Beilhart-Seedler funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

Quiet Weakness Dominates Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Quiet weakness today was the dominating theme of the stock market trading.

Leading issues were mostly fractions lower with only a few losing more than a point. At the same time there was a fairly good representation of gainers up fractions to around a point.

The Communist proposal for a meeting between Eisenhower and Stalin caught the stock market in an unguarded time between two holidays.

Lower prices were paid for Missouri Pacific preferred, Santa Fe, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone & Telegraph, Lockheed, Anaconda Copper, Dow Chemical, and Du Pont.

Higher were such issues as Zenith Radio, Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, American Woolen, and Sinclair Oil.
